WE NOMINATE

Donald Worner Griffin, 54-year old Secretary of Princeton University's 56-year old Graduate Council, who this weekend—in the midst of the traditional, and yet always "new," helter-skelter of Princeton Alumni Reunions—is entering upon his 21st year as the man-behind-the-scenes in the 30,000-member Princeton National Alumni Association. Until Griffin appeared upon the local scene, succeeding Thurston J. Davies, formerly president of Colorado College and now director of New York City's nationally known Town Hall, Princeton alumni had been long on enthusiasm and short on the kind of organization that already spells the difference between "red" and "black" in the realm of privately endowed higher education.

While Griffin has no connection with the University's fund-raising activities and would never seek to measure alumni loyalty in terms of financial support, he and his associates (notably Macpherson Raymond, Christine Stewart and Warren Elmer) have succeeded in swinging alumni interests into those ever-deepening channels which will whirl more than 5,000 alumni back to the campus for the upcoming "weekend stand." The evolution of faculty-alumni seminars, the comparatively new stress on the "family aspects" of reunions, the use of campus quadrangles by "major reunion classes"—all of these developments and more are attributable to the Graduate Council's efforts during the Griffin hegemony.

A native of Lock Haven, Pa., and the only Princeton football player ever to have captained and coached football at the University of Pennsylvania, Griffin is a past president of the Princeton Class of 1923. After having led Pennsylvania's freshman eleven, he transferred to Princeton in 1920, held forth with Nassau's undefeated 1922 "Team of Destiny" and in post-Princeton years thoroughly enjoyed coaching the Pennsylvania and Princeton varsity 150-pound football teams, the Princeton freshman linemen and the varsity squad, at Lock Haven Teachers' College. Between graduation and his return to the campus, he was associated with a lumber company, a chair-manufacturing concern and a Philadelphia investment banking firm.

Griffin, a Cavalry officer in the Pennsylvania National Guard in the 1920's and 1930's and still an inveterate horseman, served with distinction with the Army Air Forces in World War II. Assigned to AAF Headquarters in 1942, as a First Lieutenant, he was successively advanced to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel and, within the hospital liaison division of the AAF personnel distribution command, won commendations for helping develop a "philosophy of individual treatment of soldiers unique in military history." Now a Colonel in the Air Force Reserve and the perennial marshal of Princeton's Memorial Day Parades, Griffin in recent years has been the chief liaison officer between the Armed Forces and the State of New Jersey and educational institutions in the Middle Atlantic Area.

For his selfless service to the things he believes in; for understanding the totality of the Princeton Community in which Town and Gown, or Gown and Town, are one and indivisible; for strengthening the traditions that make possible a modern-day phenomenon—Princeton's Annual Reunion Weekend; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee for Note to Visiting Alumni. Those of you who really like your martinis dry will find the ultimate solution at the Princeton Gourmet, 180 Nassau Street. The shop is now offering a vermouth bottle equipped with an atomizer.

From '82 to '54. Saturday's gay parade of colorfully-costumed Princeton alumni will present a concise contrast symbolizing the years represented by those partaking in the traditional event. At the head of the "Old Guard" will be the Rev. Paul R. Martin of Evelyn Place, the University's senior alumnus who graduated in 1882. He is now in his 94th year.

Back for his 70th reunion and planning to walk to the Yale game at University Field is James R. Hughes of Bellefonte, Pa., while another Princeton resident, the Rev. Charles R. Erdman, will likewise partake in the "Old Guard" luncheon and parade. His class is 1886.

Far back of them will come the Class of 1950 decked out in space suits and forecasting the future with a float in the parade resembling a space ship. Other costumes will be more traditional, ranging from firemen to clowns, cowboys and, for classes out 25 years or more, slacks and blazers.

Advance reports indicated that the returning throng would be the largest of any year save the first post-war reunion, when alumni back from service in all parts of the world converged upon the campus 7,300 strong. Top attendance of the total of nearly 6,000 will probably go to 1930, which expects to fill its Holder Court headquarters with more than 300 of its members.

Both 1930 and 1935 (which will set a precedent as the 20-year class with an on-campus headquarters in Pyne Court) have planned thoroughly for the family-type reunion. Separate programs for wives, sons and daughters, to say nothing of the alumni themselves, have been scheduled, with 1930 establishing its domestic headquarters at the Westminster Choir College and 1935 taking over both the Columbus Boychoir School and the Seminary's Tenant Hall. The latter class, hoping to set a record for 20th reunions with well over 250 members, was nonetheless clearly outnumbered by its own wives and children: 150 of the ladies and nearly 300 small fry.

The two classes had independently hit on the same solution for entertaining the wives on Friday night. Both had hired buses and bought blocks of seats at the Lambertville Music Circus, where the show appropriately would be "The Merry Widow."

Faculty-alumni seminars, unusual exhibits (including a fascinating show of modern playground equipment designed by artist-teacher Joseph E. Brown); concerts, step-singing and athletic events were all part of the gala four-day program. Among the more unusual of the latter variety would be a crew "race" on Carnegie Lake Saturday morning between shells whose oarsmen graduated in 1910 and 1915.

Other incidental notes: "Pinkertons" (private detectives) have been hired by some classes to reduce the flow of uninvited guests into headquarters, which in recent years has often run into dozens in a single tent.

A number of antique automobiles will be featured by 1930 in Saturday's parade.

Alumni coming back from across the nation often lose out on long-distance awards to others who have made the journey from half-way 'round the world.

Inoculations Postponed

Borough and Township Health Officers David Blake and William Kleinberg agreed this week that the Salk polio inoculation program for first and second grade children will now be postponed until fall. The decision was reached for several reasons, despite arrival of a supply of the vaccine in Princeton

Private schools have closed, public and parochial schools will do so by Wednesday. School officials feel that in view of the many postponements, new consent forms should be obtained from all parents. Finally, doctors are on record as believing that immunization programs of this nature are inadvisable after June 1 because of the approach of the "polio season."

TOPICS OF THE TOWN

New York Times' extensive coverage of the exhibition in its editions of June 3d, the United States Information Agency has expressed its interest in preparing a full-scale layout for world consumption.

In fact, mail received here by Larom B. Munson, director of The Little Gallery, indicates that the U.S.I.A. has been beaten to the punch by European editions of American newspapers. The word from Holland was that the unprecedented business-section showing of modern art had already merited front-page coverage in Europe.

Princeton's reactions to the exhibition, jointly sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and TOWN TOPICS, ranged from "a to zed." Some Princetonians were delighted, others were unimpressed and still others were intrigued that modern paintings, like O'Keefe's "In the Patio V" in The Bait or Shahn's "Cybernetics" in Davidsons' Supermarket, could command any kind of price in any kind of market.

One of the 21 operating Princeton merchants put it this way: "Somebody's going to get arrested. Have you seen those other pictures around town? Have you seen the one at The Bait? I think they're going to fill the state asylum before the week is out."

Regardless of individual reactions, the sponsors were satisfied. They had, in accordance with their announced purpose, succeeded in "bringing the people of Princeton into a every-day contact with some of America's foremost contemporary artists."

Township School Hearing. A dozen Township residents plus newsmen and school-connected personnel attended the public hearing Tuesday on the proposed new "Littlebrook School", due for a vote on June 23.

The small gathering heard: an outline of the steps followed in planning for the new school, designed to provide by the fall of 1956 for the booming Township student population; a survey of the architectural features by O. Kline Fulmer, pointing out the ways in which the building will incorporate modern school planning concepts with maximum economy, and a summary of the financial questions involved.

The $695,000 figure for the bond issue was described as "most conservatively arrived at," allowing for contingencies and definitely planned by the board as the outside figure for the project. It includes the addition of two classrooms to Valley Road School.

The board of education went on record as intending to shave as much as possible from the maximum figure, but in order to impress the scale and significance of the municipality's school needs, it was estimated that the school tax rate might rise by as much as 2.37 points by 1959 in order to meet projected needs.

Boy Killed Leaving School Bus. Struck by an automobile that was passing the school bus he had just left, Kenneth Czariki of Little Rocky Hill was killed Monday near his home on Route 27. Eight-years old, he was in the third grade at St. Paul's School.

State Police said the car was driven by Mrs. Nellie R. Matson of Nixon, N. J., and quoted her as saying that she thought the bus was moving as she approached it. Its driver, Kenneth C. Kerr of New Brunswick reported, on the contrary, that the bus was stopped and that its light was blinking at the same time of the accident.

The boy was rushed to Princeton Hospital by the Rocky Hill First Aid Squad but was pronounced dead on arrival of "a fractured skull. Mrs. Matson will face a Middlesex County grand jury on a charge of causing death by automobile.

Lenox Hall Revisited. Nearly 200 residents attended Thursday's public session at which Princeton Theological Seminary's president, Dr. John A. Mackay, outlined the institution's plans for the erection of the new $1,500,000 Speer Library on the site of "Old Lenox" Library. The meeting returned to public discussion the controversy that has simmered in past months over the fate of the 120-year-old library building on Mercer Street and Library Place.

Dr. Mackay asserted that it was his feeling that the public meeting on the seminary library question was "in the tradition of community forums". Approximately two dozen speakers from the floor took part. Dr. Eugene C. Blake, Seminary trustee and president of the National Council of Churches, U. S. A., presided.

Opposition centered as in the past on destruction of an architecturally significant structure and on whether or not another site could be used for the new li-

Sweet Dreams. Because this is June, there is a collection of exceptionally lovely trousseau linens at Stone's Linen Shop, 20 Nassau, most of them designed around the lily of the valley. There is a luxurious set of sheets and pillow cases in white with a deep border that serves as a background for the lily sprays. The motif is even carried into table linen where it appears on a set of linen and organdy place mats (aqua, pink, or yellow) and on a square luncheon cloth of white organdy with linen appliques.

Rose point lace is used with delicacy and skill in a bridal handkerchief made of linen and imported from Switzerland. There are many bridal handkerchiefs, some of them domestic, all made of fine linen and lace-work.

For a bride's linen closet, Stone's suggests percale sheets with yellow roses (pink) or scattered sprays of forget-me-nots. These sheets are approximately $9 for the twin size, $12.50 for the double. Blanket covers are crepe with Alencon lace, nylon, or a rosebud challis with white satin or plain hemstitched binding. Here's a set in the same rosebud pattern: a nylon pillow stuffed with dacron, and a matching comforter. Pillow is $5.95.

You may have a bedspread monogrammed here at Stone's—choose tailored block letters in satin on bark cloth, or a gracefully curved monogram in embroidered satin on challis. Prices for these covers begin at $11.95 for plisse, and go up from there. The shop will monogram anything, of course, even a shower curtain.

Irish linen has been edged with hand crochet in a series of hand towels from $1.35 to $1.65 each. There are huck towels, too, and some with hemstitched borders instead of the crocheted ones. Colors are clear strong pastels, and the huck towels have bright red or emerald green as well.

Pewter from the Master. A new little factory in Waterbury, Conn. has begun the production of pewter reproductions and their first products are now available at The Cummins Shop, 96 Nassau. The owner of the plant buys old pewter pieces or borrows them from museums and makes painstakingly accurate copies, molded carefully around the brass chuck that is the "potter's wheel" of the pewter craftsman.

At the Cummins Shop there is a bowl copied from a Gleason bowl made in 1830. Done in three sizes, it sells for $5, $7.50 and $9. The famous Revere bowl is here in three sizes, too, starting at $5. Then there's a grandfather Revere bowl, made for punch and priced at $30. The classic Revere pitcher comes in two sizes. We liked the sugar and creamer, copied from Hull pieces made in 1660.

There's a whiskey tumbler, and to give you an idea of our ancestors' capacity, this tumbler is now intended for use as a cigarette urn. It's $3, and with it for $2 there is a little butter plate that will join the ranks of those exquisite small pieces that people are always using for ashtrays.

The largest piece in the Woodbury collection, aside from the punch bowl, is a charger about 14 inches in diameter. Later on there will be individual butter plates and service plates. The pewter is finished in a dull sheen, but if you want it very dull without any burnishing at all, you may so order it.

Still in the antique department the Cummins Shop is showing some "new" ironstone tureens, those oyster white giants that great-grandmother used to use. Adams, of England, has taken the old molds, used the old backstamp on each piece, used the time-honored china clay with ground flint mixed in it, and made precisely the same pieces the company made in 1825. A large tureen, big enough for a family of ten children, is $15. It's the Ceres pattern, with wheat here and there.

A smaller tureen in the Crown pattern, is also $15, and there's a sauce boat in the Ceres pattern for $6.50. Ladle is $3.50. Later on, possibly in the fall, Adams will ship over some soup plates and other matching pieces. Probably grubbing in the attic for those molds right now.

Border Prints . . . are being used more and more these days for unusual decorating effects, and to satisfy your needs in this regard, the Princeton Decorating Shop, currently at 32 Nassau, but next month at 35 Palmer Square West, brary Professor Richard Stillwell of Princeton University labeled the prospective tearing down of Lenox "an architectural and historical tragedy". Another speaker charged, "the real difficulty is that the interests of the Seminary seem to be conflicting with the interests of the community".

Among the speakers who supported the plans as a means of providing an adequate library for the institution were Dr. E. Hurlbut and Dr. George Thomas, also of Princeton University. They defended the Seminary's decision as the best solution to a "tragic problem".

Dr. Mackay opened the meeting by reviewing the history of the institution in the community, its library background and needs, and the search for other solutions. He presented "four basic affirmations":

● "Princeton Seminary definitely needs a new library." The physical facilities of the two-building library used today are "hopelessly inadequate" to provide space for the some 500 students of the institution.

● "The new library must meet certain basic requirements," such as being located in the geographic center of the seminary campus and fitting into the overall pattern of Princeton's development. "The new library must also be a first class structure," because the seminary's goal is to house a half-million volumes.

● "The traditional library site is the only adequate one." The site was given by James Lennox, a benefactor of the New York Public Library, for the sole purpose of library use. Dr. Mackay pointed out that many other sites on the campus have been studied for location of the new structure and six had been seriously considered, but that the Lenox site proved the only one that meets the needs of the seminary.

● "The seminary is prepared to meet every requirement that the new library may fit into the pattern of the community." The plans for the new structure were drawn up by George T. Licht architect for the First Presbyterian Church here and the seminary's new Campus Center. The type of architecture for the projected building is "restored Colonial."

The only major stumbling block now confronting the Seminary is the fate of a resolution which comes before the Borough Council this Tuesday. The resolution would grant an "easement of light and air" now needed by the seminary in order to carry out its present building plans on the property next to that occupied by Borough Hall.

While some $60,000 has been spent to date on architects' fees, the Seminary's plans are being held up until the Borough decision is reached. Meanwhile, the Seminary has offered Lenox Hall to anyone who will remove it to another site. The cost of moving is estimated at between $150,000 to $200,000.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

After attending the public meeting about the proposed Princeton Seminary Library last week and trying to digest the issues, I was struck by the necessity for the citizens of the town to support a good cause. The Seminary has, after a great deal of planning and thought over a long period, decided that this is the best possible site for their new library so sorely needed by their students. Surely, these men who are highly respected citizens of the town have come to their decision with care, as was pointed out at the meeting by the University men there, who spoke in behalf of the plan, knowing the endless problems in organizing and carrying out such a plan.

It seems to me that the objections raised were minor when you consider the plan that the Seminary has for the future and surely all the spiritual and moral leaders that are to benefit by the new library should be our first concern. That the building should be designed for the best working conditions and possible expansion and maximum accessibility is vital and I believe that the town will benefit by a generous and helpful attitude to the project in helping their fellow citizens in a difficult situation.

Brickley to Succeed Wilson. Raymond C. Brickley has been elected secretary and treasurer of Princeton Municipal Improvement, succeeding J. Edwin Wilson, who will retire June 30 after nearly 16 years in the post. Mr. Brickley has been assistant secretary and treasurer since 1941.

George A. Brakley was re-elected president and Edgar S. Smith vice-president. Richard W. Knight, manager of the PMI theatre division, was elected as assistant secretary, and John C. Yeoman, assistant to Mr. Wilson for the past year, was named assistant treasurer.

Directors elected at the annual stockholders meeting were Mrs. Zilph H. Palmer, Mr. Brakely, E. F. Bunn, Dr. George Gallup, Stuart E. Hockenbury, H. C. Irons, Bernard Kilgore, Edward A. MacMillan, Ricardo A. Mestres.

In accepting Mr. Wilson's resignation, the board expressed its regret and its appreciation of his services during the long period of his association with the corporation. He will continue to live at 319 Priaceton Road, Plainsboro.

George P. Washko, new manager of the Nassau Tavern, reported to the board on preliminary plans for developing the services of the Tavern, which in 1956 will enter its 250th year of existence as a hotel.

Teenage Canteen Party. The Princeton Teenage Canteen will hold its last party of the year on Saturday from 8:30 to 11. Tommy Everett's band will play for dancing on Bamberger's roof, with refreshments served by the members.

Voting will be held for the officers of next year's canteen. The candidates include Victor Payne, Richard Sartor and Nancy Yeoman for president; Linda Moncone, Sandy Pritchard and Nick Kovalakides for vice-president; Nancy Craven, Kay Donley and Julia Summerville for secretary; and Joel Johnson, Robert MacNamee and Dana Morgan for treasurer.

Observation Site Planned. The Borough-Township Civilian Defense Council has authorized the acquiring of an improved post for the Princeton Ground Observers Corps, but has indicated that only some $200 will be available for the needed improvements. An estimated $2,000 is needed to provide the corps with an adequate shelter, according to Harry Allwine, chairman of the GOC's building committee.

Tentative plans call for a one and one-half story tower with a four-directional visibility shelter for the post. Special sloped windows are planned to facilitate night observation.

Members of the Ground Observers Corps are hopeful of finding a means of obtaining the shelter before the coming winter. "It is only be remaining outside our present shelter that we can see the planes at night," Mr. Allwine disclosed.

Under the direction of Hayward Greenland, the more than 200 members of the Princeton Ground Observers Post have been maintaining a 24-hour watch of the skies over Princeton. Each spotter takes a two-hour shift once a week, with the more inconvenient night shifts scheduled for every second or third week.

The spotters' building committee is now studying some of the means employed by other posts in obtaining facilities. The group is obtaining the information by means of questionnaires.

The first public donation in the amount of $50 has been received from Mr. and Mrs. William T. White of Hilltop. Lewis C. Bowers & Sons is donating professional services for the preparation of a bill of materials and a stress analysis of the design to ensure structural safety.

Smorgasbord Supper. The Ladies Aid Society of the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church will sponsor a smorgasbord supper from 4:30 to 7:30 on Thursday June 16. The event will take place on the lawn of the home of Mrs. George Reeves, Sr., at 10 Quarry Street.

In case of rain, the supper will be served in the parish house of the church. Tickets may be reserved by calling Mrs. Waxwood, (1-2668-W) or Mrs. Boyd (1-2441-M)

Summer Music School. Vocal and instrumental instruction will be provided in the fourth annual session of the summer music school conducted by the Princeton High School Music Department. The school will begin on June 27, at the Witherspoon School, with registration on June 23 and 24.

Beginning and advanced lessons are open to students from the fifth grade through high school in the instrumental branch. Sylvan Friedman and Walter Horner will conduct these courses.

Thomas Hilbish will have charge of the vocal work, offered to high school students and eighth grade boys and girls. A concert at the end of the session will feature a chorus, band and orchestra.

Obituaries

Edward A. Thorne, 56, of Elm Road, well-known Nassau Street druggist, died of heart attack at his home on June 6. He had been a resident of this community for the past 30 years, operating pharmacies at 44 and then 168 Nassau Street, the latter his principal location.

Born in Camden, Mr. Thorne was an alumnus of the University of Pittsburgh and had also attended the Temple University School of Business Administration. He served overseas with the Marines in the first World War and worked as a reporter for newspapers in Atlantic City and Philadelphia before becoming a druggist, first in Trenton and then in Princeton.

Mr. Thorne entered politics in 1947, running successfully as a Democratic candidate for the Mercer County Board of Freeholders. He was twice-reelected by large majorities and during his eight years in office was of major assistance to Princeton Hospital and in such projects as long-needed reconstruction of the Princeton-Hightstown Road.

Mr. Thorne organized and was director of the Mercer County Industrial Commission. Rateables in the county increased as a result of new industry the commission brought to the greater Trenton area.

Mr. Thorne is survived by his wife, Mrs. Gladys Kennedy Thorne; a daughter, Mrs. Leyton Carter of Princeton; a brother, Horace Thorne of Philadelphia; and two grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Friday morning at 11 at Trinity Episcopal Church. The Rev. H Martin P. Davidson will officiate and interment will be in Princeton Cemetery. Friends may call Thursday afternoon and evening at The Mather Funeral Home.

The following resolution was passed by the executive committee of the Princeton Democratic Club at a special meeting:

"The Princeton Democratic Club expresses its deep sorrow in the death of Edward A. Thorne. His passing is a personal loss to each and every member. The Club will greatly miss him as a leading and staunch supporter of many years' standing.

"A devoted public servant, Ed Thorne's chief concern always was for the less fortunate of his fellow-men. His service in their behalf as County Freeholder in charge of Courts and Charities is a matter of public record. The great amount of aid that he, as an individual, gave to others is known only to the many persons who benefitted from his assistance and advice."

Hans G. Rastede, 57, died June 5 in the Lawrenceville School infirmary after a long illness. Head of the German Department in the school, he has been a member of the faculty for more than a quarter-century.

Born in Chicago, Mr. Rastede was a graduate of Northwestern University, Class of 1918, and held graduate degrees from Harvard. He had taught at three other boys' schools before coming to Lawrenceville.

A bachelor, Mr. Rastede leaves no near survivors. A memorial service in the school chapel is planned at the end of this week.

PROTECTION FOR PRINCETON: James Pace (left), foreman of the Hook and Ladder Company, and Fire Chief Charles J. Rocknak are shown with the new $18,700 engine just added to the Department's equipment. The new truck, to be housed at Witherspoon Street, was built by the Seagraves Co., has a capacity of 750 gallons per minute and also carries a 50[illegible]gallon tank. Its accessories include mobile lighting equipment and a smoke ejector with which smoke and fumes can be sucked out of a burning building. (Richards Photo)

River Road Pool to Re-Open. An aqua show featuring youngsters of the Rocky Hill area will highlight the re-opening of the River Road Pool next Saturday at 3 p. m. The pool and recreation center will be in operation through Labor Day. The program for the pool will be expanded this year, featuring training in artificial respiration and other water safety practices, as well as activities for cloudy or cool days.

More than 1,000 young persons benefited from the pool last summer. It is the gift of Linus R. Gilbert, president of Kingston Trap Rock Co., while Miss Anita Store is the director.

The pool may be used by children 5 through 18 who have obtained passes through regular registration channels, while children of Princeton Township residents who live in the area may register Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 5.

Princeton's unforgettable Dean Gauss

He gave his students hell—and made 'em love it.

He would berate a student in class and then spend all night solving his problems. Even when he had to expel a student, he did it with a characteristically gentle touch. (A boy commented once, "It was worth getting kicked out just to spend an hour with that man.")

In the classroom Dean Gauss was a walking library. He gave a course in Spanish with only 3 days' training in the language. He made his students work, think, and scramble to keep pace with him.

In June Reader's Digest, Judge Harold R. Medina ('09) gives his memories of Christian Gauss—to many, the best-known and best-liked college dean in America.

Seminary Plans Institute. A ten-day "Institute of Theology" has been planned for this summer by the faculty of Princeton Theological Seminary. Starting on July 11 and continuing through July 21, the Institute will hold classes, meetings and general convocations on the theme, "The Living God in the Contemporary Situation."

The 21-member faculty of the Institute will consist of eight members of the Seminary faculty and other leaders including Ralph W. Sockman, pastor of Christ Methodist Church, New York, and popular radio preacher; Robert S. Meyer, director of the McKim Boys Haven in Baltimore; Bayard Dodge, newly-appointed cultural attache to the Middle East for the U.S. Information Service; Elton Trueblood, Chief of Religious Information for the U. S. Information Agency; Frank Lauhach, well-known for his adult literacy campaigns in over 80 countries; and David H. C. Read, Chaplain to Her Majesty the Queen in Scotland.

This year the Institute will offer a special course in clinical work for pastors at the New Jersey State Neuro-Psychiatric Institute. The course will be given by doctors and by the Institute chaplain, Ralph Carpenter.

Last year, representatives of 30 denominations attended the Institute of Theology. They came from 26 states, the District of Columbia and eight foreign countries.

St. Paul's Announces Plans. Construction will begin soon on the new church, rectory and convent to be built at Nassau and Moore Streets for communicants of St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church. The present structures will be razed.

The new church, designed by Thomas H. Moran in contemporary Gothic architecture, will rise on the corner of Nassau and Moore, facing Nassau. Made of Mt. Airy granite with limestone trim, it will seat 850 persons. The new rectory will stand approximately where the present church stands, while the new convent will stand at right angles to the rectory, next to the present school.

Four priests will be housed in the new rectory and 16 sisters in the convent. Both buildings will be constructed of brick and limestone to match the school. It is expected that the buildings will be completed in about 18 months.

Berlin Pastor Here. The Rev. Christian R. Berg, director of the Evangelical Hilfswerk for Berlin and the East Zone of Germany will speak at the Second Presbyterian Church this Thursday at 8 p.m. on the role of the Hilfswerk (Protestant relief agency) in Berlin and the East Zone.

Ordained in 1933, the Rev. Mr. Berg served a term in a Nazi prison for his work with the Confessional Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church. In 1937, he left Germany to become pastor of a German congregation in Palestine. He has been associated with Hilfswerk since 1945, and took charge of East Zone work for the organization in 1949.

Lawrenceville Topics

Newsletter. Teen-age gangs in Lawrenceville, Princeton and Trenton are understood to be feuding at present, and Township police say something "big" could break out—and are watching for it . . . Donald R. Cranstoun and John R. Janick, both of Main Street, received bachelor of science degrees at the 189th Commencement of Rutgers University on Wednesday . . . Mrs. Marie Loveless of Reeder Avenue, heretofore a special school crossing policeman at Eldridge Park, has been named temporary clerk for the Township because of Mrs. Della L. Nash's recent illness.

Students at Lawrence Junior High used regular voting machines to elect new class officers . . . Robert Buxton will attend the annual Boys State at the end of this month as representative of Lawrence Township Post No. 414, American Legion. Robert Davis Jr. is Boys State Chairman for the post . . . Theft or loss of a billfold containing $960 was reported to the police over the weekend by Charles Weise of 810 Bunker Hill Avenue, a Lawrence house painter.

Golf and Tennis Applications. Lawrence Township residents will receive preference through July 1 for use of Lawrenceville School's golf course and tennis courts. The facilities will be made available again this summer, running from next Wednesday through September 15.

The season's fee for golf will be: individual, $20; family (husband and wife) $30; family (plus children 12 through 21), $35. Guests will be charged for at $1.50 Monday through Friday and $4 on Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays.

Charges for tennis: individual, $10; family (entire), $15. The charge for guests will be at all times. Both facilities will be available from noon to dark weekdays and 9 a.m. to dark Saturday, Sunday and holidays.

All applications for passes should be made through Leslie T. Fagon, Business Office, The Lawrenceville School. Because of the pressure of the close of the school year, no passes are being mailed until June 15. The swimming pool will not be open for use this summer.

School Commencement. The annual commencement exercises this Saturday morning at 11 will highlight the close of the Lawrenceville School's year. A buffet luncheon given by Headmaster and Mrs. Healy will follow.

Other events of the weekend include the traditional class day exercises Friday at 4, the concert by the musical clubs Friday evening at 9, and the final faculty meeting Sunday at 3.

Clean-Up a Success. This year's Clean-Up Campaign was the most successful to date, with collections nearly doubling those of 1954. In the Northern area, 18 truck loads were collected, compared with seven a year ago.

Charles F. Hirsch and John L. Philkill, co-chairmen for the campaign, have urged continued interest on the part of residents in keeping the township clean throughout the years, for reasons both of sightliness and safety.

Annual Cub Picnic. Lawrenceville's Cub Scout Pack No. 27 held its annual picnic last Friday, with the cubs meeting at the home of Harry Kihn of Green Avenue and bringing their own "nosebag supper." Dessert and other refreshments were furnished by the troop.

The older boys played baseball at the home of James Wakelin on Green Avenue, while younger scouts took part in various games. The entire group marched to the Lawrenceville School pool for a swim to close the session.

DIXIELAND ON WHEELS: Turning out the classic "Muskrat Ramble" as its opening invitation to sample the fun at the Hospital Fete, Bud Baker's easy-riding sextet toured the town last Saturday to the enjoyment of many a listener. From the left, the musicians are Fred Struve and Stan Rubin, clarinets; Wilder Hobson, trombone; Elias T. "Bud" Baker (who had his own 14-piece band while in college) on the trumpet; Mrs. Hobson, whose tuba pinch-hit for the rhythm section in the absence of drums; and Sandy Maxwell on the piano. The truck for the occasion was loaned by L. C. Bowers & Sons. (Richards Photo)

News of the Theatres

THE PLAYHOUSE

Interrupted Melody (June 8-11) is a popularized life of the Met opera star Marjorie Lawrence. The film is made with skill, color, and an emotional approach. Included are many excerpts from opera and popular song, all of them well done. The stars of the film are Eleanor Parker and Glenn Ford.

End of the Affair (June 12-14) is an adult, perceptive, occasionally slow film of the Graham Greene novel of extra-marital love, faith, religious stress and other matters. The film was made in England and there has been a shift in locale and story emphasis, but it remains of interest. Of the stars, Deborah Kerr is outstanding, while Van Johnson continues to improve as an actor. John Mills provides the few light moments.

The Prodigal (June 15-18) is a sex-and-salavation Bible epic, with probably the most cynical intentions ever foisted on the public in this kind of film. Furthermore, Lana Turner and Edward Purdom are wooden and the film is dull, despite the spectacular scenes. The writers cooked up quite a few sins and sinners for the story of the prodigal son, which despite cuts and a theoretically moral ending, are designed to titillate.

THE GARDEN

The Eternal Sea (June 9-11) is a service picture filmed in low key, and hence a more than routine story. In addition it's about the USS Princeton and its wartime commander, who was seriously wounded when the ship went down in the Philippines, and returned to his command. Not a great show, but a strong one about a simple hero.

Bedevilled (June 13-15) is a somewhat thin melodrama of a Parisian night club singer of none too savory past and present (played by Anne Baxter) and a dedicated young man (Steve Forrest) who tries to help her out of trouble. Good CinemaScope and color photography of Paris. (See box this page for news of the accompanying short, "Land of Enchantment.")

Hell's Island (June 16-18) is the final offering until Labor Day at the Garden. The film is a quickie Carribean intrigue designed for the action fan who is disinterested in plot refinements. John Payne gets into a lot of trouble with people such as Mary Murphy and Francis L. Sullivan before justice triumphs.

Land of Enchantment

"Land of Enchantment," a 30-minute short about New Mexico and featuring the painter Georgia O'Keefe, will be shown at The Garden Theatre this Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, coinciding with the close of Princeton's first annual Merchants' Art Exhibit. The short plays with "Bedevilled."

The film made by the U. S. Information Agency was previewed through the courtesy of Richard W. Knight, manager of the local movie theatres, and proved an exceptionally well-made documentary, with beautiful photography of one of this country's most scenic areas.

MURRAY THEATRE

Reunion Concert. Among the highlights of the Reunion Weekend will be a concert this Friday at 2:30 in Murray Theatre featuring Joseph C. Hawthorne, conductor of the Toledo Symphony, and James A. Sykes, chairman of the music department at Dartmouth. Both are graduates of the Class of 1930, which is celebrating its 25th Reunion.

The program calls for Brahms' Sonata for Viola (Mr. Hawthorne) and Piano (Mr. Sykes) and Edward T. Cone's ('38, Queenston Place, Princeton) Rhapsody for Viola and Piano. Solo works chosen by the performers will complete the program.

SUCKS COUNTY PLAYHOUSE

The sell-out production of "Picnic" by William Inge will complete its run at the Bucks County Playhouse this Saturday evening. Next at the barn theatre will be "The Fairly Fortune" by Theodore St. John.

The Bucks opening Monday night will mark the pre-Broadway premiere for the drama, which is set in the turbulent pre-Civil War Ways when the Abolitionist movement was reaching its peak. The play is scheduled for Broadway presentation this fall under the aegis of Alfred de Liagre Jr., whose credits as producer include "Voice of the Turtle," "Madwoman of Chaillot" and "The Deep Blue Sea."

Victor Jory and Michael Wagner will share center stage as two men confronted by the problem of whether then idealistic end justifies corrupt means. Also involved is Lois Smith as a young woman loved by both men. Others in the cast will be Billy Greene, Frank Merlin and Nancy Marchand (who is currently in "Picnic.")

Mr. Jory, an actor and student of the Lincoln era, is signed for a year with his present vehicle and then is scheduled to portray the Civil War president in the stage version of "The Lincoln-Douglas Debates," a projected 1956 production.

Mr. Wagner made his Broadway debut in "Streetcar Named Desire" and has been seen in "The Small Hours," "Misalliance," and "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker." Mr. St. John is staging his own work at Bucks County.

The first of four children's shows at the Bucks Playhouse will be given this Thursday, June 9. The Suzari Marionettes will present "Aladdin and His Wonder Lamp" at 2 and again at 4:30 p.m.

MUSIC CIRCUS

The opening musical offering of the season at the Music Circus in Lambertville, "The Merry Widow," runs through this Sunday evening. Next in will be the recent hit musical "Wonderful Town," playing for two weeks.

"The Merry Widow" by Franz Lehar is considered one of the World's most popular operettas. At one time in its history, there were more than 100 touring companies presenting it all over the world.

The new Music Circus version of the show (which launched St. John Terrell's first season) has new book and lyrics by Edward Eager, based on the original German version of the operetta, with modern implications added. All the Lehar music has been retained and the song "The Cavalier" has been restored despite the fact that it has been cut in recent productions.

Inn at 6:30 on Monday. Mrs. Gertrude Lee of Freehold, second vice-president of the State Federation, will conduct the ceremonies.

Other officers include Mrs. Josephine Konover, first vice-president; Mrs. Folly B. Steele, second vice-president; Miss Beatrice Bowen, recording secretary; Mrs. Celeste Everline, corresponding secretary; Miss Alice R. Braveman, treasurer. Mrs. Konover and Mrs. Steele will give reports on the recent State Federation convention in Atlantic City.

Y.M.C.A. Honors Two. Dr. Charles R. Erdman and B. Franklin Bunn have received special citations from the Princeton Y.M.C.A. for the roles they have played in the history and life of the Y. The awards were presented by Raymond A. Bowers, president of the Princeton Y.

Not only have these two men had the longest terms of continuous membership in the association, but they also helped bring the Y back to life in 1917 after it had suspended activities. A meeting held by C. Herbert Davison, then vice-president of the Mercer County Federation of Y.M.C.A.'s, in the home of Dr. Erdman and attended by Mr. Bunn laid plans for reorganizing and revitalizing the Princeton association.

Since that meeting in 1917, the Princeton Y has grown steadily in the number of men and boys participating in its activities and in its contribution to the Princeton community. The current invitation to Y.M.C.A. membership being extended to the community will close June 18 on the occasion of the annual father and son outing to be held at Marquand Park.

Cubs End Year. Cub Scout Pack 88, sponsored by the Princeton Methodist Church, concluded its activities for the year with a picnic Friday at the Clifford Cortelyou farm. The June meeting followed a month during which the cubs studied Indian lore and prepared costumes for an Indian pow-wow of all the "red-skins" in the pack.

A. B. Freedman has been named chairman of the Pack 88 committee for the 1955-56 year. He succeeds E. O. Keizer as chairman of the group, which directs the cub scouting activities of some 60 boys under the supervision of Boy Scout headquarters.

Other members of next year's Cub committee are Mrs. J. E. McLean, field secretary; C. R. Stroup, Thomas S. Mederos and Richard C. Griggs, co-cubmasters; John Chasko, treasurer; John E. Dobbin, publicity chairman; O. M. Woodward, institutional representative and Mrs. G. W. Soete, Mrs. Lester Tibbals, Jr., Mrs. Louis Pensak, Mrs. G. A. Speedy, Mrs. A. L. Benson and Mrs. John W. French, den mothers.

Members of the retiring committee include Mrs. Marshall Ammerman, field secretary; Leslie L. Vivian and John E. Dobbin, co-cubmasters; Richard C. Griggs and B. Roy Norton, Jr., assistant cubmasters; Thomas S. Mederos, Jr., den leader; John Chasko, treasurer; Richard Pearson, publicity chairman, Arthur Johnson, arrangements; O. M. Woodward, institutional representative, and Mrs. Charles W. Muelke, Mrs. John E. Dobbin, Mrs. E. O. Keizer, Mrs. Robert S. Rowe, Mrs. William L. Wilson, Mrs. Thomas E. Harvey, Mrs. R. H. Fox and Mrs. M. L. Schultz, den mothers.

Griggstown Fair Planned. The Griggstown Volunteer Fire Company and Ladies Auxiliary are planning a Country Fair next Saturday, June 18, to dedicate and help pay for their newly-acquired fire engine. In case of rain, the fair will be held June 25.

The movie and TV performing horse, Tarzan, will be a special feature of the fair. Under his trainer Buster Crabbe, Tarzan will dance the hula in a hula skirt and the mambo.

Special features for children include rides in a pony cart, a covered wagon and wagons pulled by a tractor. There will also be a tight-rope walk, water pistol shoot and a ping-pong throw, as well as a make-up booth.

A free nursery for small children will be provided. A bake sale, apron park and flower shop are planned for women, while men may try their skill at the hammer board, coconut throw, golf range or dart board. There will be various refreshments at the fair, including a clam bar.

Textile Institute Appointments. Dr. Helmut Wakeham has been appointed Director of Research at the Textile Research Institute. Dr. John H. Dillon, Director of the Institute, has announced. Dr. Howard J. White, Jr., Associate Director of Research, has been assigned to the educational program carried out jointly with Princeton University.

Dr. Wakeham, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, has served with the Standard Oil Company of California and the Institute of Textile Technology in Charlottesville, Va. Dr. White, an alumnus of Princeton with a graduate degree from the University of Wisconsin, has been associated with the Institute since 1948. He was made Associate Director of Research in 1954.

New University Appointments. S. Sheldon Judson, Jr., a graduate of Princeton in 1940, has been appointed Associate Professor of Geology at the University. He has been a member of the faculty at the University of Wisconsin for the past six years.

While at Princeton, Dr. Judson received the Class of 1901 Medal, presented to the senior who, in the estimation of his class-mates, has done the most for Princeton. A lieutenant in the Navy during the second World War, he received his graduate degrees at Harvard before going to Wisconsin as an instructor in 1948.

Transfers to West Windsor. Mrs. Eleanor G. Germenian has been appointed as kindergarten teacher at the West Windsor School for the year 1955-'56. She will transfer from the Princeton Borough School system, where she has served as special remedial teacher.

At the same time, the contract of Mrs. Julia Scheideler was renewed as Township truant officer. She has served in the post for the past five years. James C. Sandilos, Superintendent of Schools, also announced that achievement and mental maturity levels of the district scored above the national average for their grade levels.

Aids for MS Patients. Sufferers from multiple sclerosis, a crippling disease of the nervous system, can now receive help in adjusting to their disabilities from the Central New Jersey Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. Wheel chairs and other rehabilitation services are provided through Mrs. Alvan Campbell, secretary of the Central Jersey Chapter.

A fund drive to support the work of the National MS Society is now being conducted in the Central Jersey area. Canisters have been placed throughout the Princeton community, but more sizeable gifts are needed to make the drive a success. James Arnold is area treasurer for the campaign.

Members of the Princeton team for the drive are Mr. and Mrs. Minot Morgan, Jr., Charles T. Cowenhoven, Jr., Milton White and Mr. Arnold, assisted by a number of volunteer workers. Contributions may be made through Mr. Arnold or sent to 2 Chestnut Street.

Recreation Program Planned. Howard B. Waxwood, Jr., chairman of the Princeton Playgrounds Committee, has announced that the summer recreation program will be conducted from June 27 until September 2. C. Edward Christian has been appointed as supervisor of the program for the tenth consecutive year.

The playgrounds will be in operation for eight weeks, closing on August 19. The wading pools will continue their program, however, for an additional two weeks and will close on September 2. Other events for the summer are the annual championship Red Feather Tennis Tournaments and the Community Junior Baseball League.

The supervised playgrounds will be located at Harrison Street, Witherspoon Street and the high school field. The wading pools, which are also supervised, are on John Street, Pine Street and at the Harrison Street playground. Unsupervised areas will be provided with playground apparatus for small children at the corner of Chestnut Street and Hamilton Avenue, at William Street opposite University Field and at Marquand Park. The project is financed by the Borough, Township and Community Chest.

Other members of the committee are Mrs. Charles W. Link, honorary chairman; William N. Smyth, vice-chairman; Francis G. Clark, secretary; David N. Penrose, treasurer; Charles A. Hurford, I. Russell Riker, Delmar Lipp, Mr. and Mrs. Harold

Sports in Princeton

Even Up. Princeton's 4-3 triumph in baseball over Yale at New Haven last week lent worthwhile emphasis to the traditional reunion game set for University Field this Saturday. Since the Elis won, 3-0, last month, the final clash will determine the winner of the 1955 series. Some 8,000 gaily-costumed alumni, bands, floats and attendant humor and color will be on view in the parade before the contest, with the game scheduled to start about 2:45.

Southpaw Jim Gibson and Dick Emery, senior righthander, combined their efforts to pitch the victory over the strong Elis, who had already made off with the 1955 Ivy League championship. Yale had won nine games in a row in circuit play, becoming the first team in the 25-year history of the league to finish unbeaten, and Princeton is thus the only member of the ten-college group to triumph over the Bulldogs.

Gibson pitched 6 2/3 innings, Emery taking over with two men aboard in the seventh and Yale in front, 3-2. He ended the threat, pitched hitless ball in the final two rounds and was the winner when the Orange and Black shoved across single tallies in the eighth and ninth.

Emery will hurl the game this Saturday, with Gibson and sophomore Leigh Ford ready for relief if necessary. The Montclair resident, whose last-minute 40-yard pass set up the winning touchdown in the Bowl last fall, has been a tremendously improved pitcher after losing his touch in 1954. No earned runs have been charged to him in his last 19 innings.

Defense Shines. The Tigers scored in the first, fifth, eighth and ninth, being held to five hits but working losing pitcher Bob Davis for six walks and getting three others aboard when they were hit. Possibly the brightest spot of all was that they gave Gibson and Emery errorless support.

Three passes and a hit batsman brought a run across in the top of the first without the aid of a safe blow. Ed McMillan, sophomore catcher whose hitting has been a major factor in the last half-dozen games, tripled in the fifth and scored on Captain John Easton's sacrifice fly.

Yale picked up one in the fourth, also on a triple and long fly, and then took a brief lead in the seventh when Bill Schifino homered with Phil Mathias aboard to make it 3-2.

Successive singles after the circuit blow finished Gibson and Emery took over. Princeton tied the score in the eighth when Easton was safe on a error, advanced on Agnew's sacrifice and came all the way home on Pete Millard's single off the second baseman's glove.

Gordy Gray was hit and McMillan followed with a single to center to set the stage for the winning run in the ninth. Easton's sinking hit to center went for a double when centerfielder Ray Lamontagne missed an attempted shoestring catch. Gray scored and when Emery kept control of affairs in the last of the ninth, that was the ball game.

The Tigers will have a tougher assignment this weekend, with Yale's ace Ken McKenzie on the firing line. He was the pitcher who blanked them, 3-0, at New Haven on May 14.

The entire outfield and half the infield will play its last game Saturday. Easton, Gray and Millard, the first two three-year veterans, will all pick up their diplomas Tuesday. Third baseman Hank Thomny and shortstop John Perkins are members of the Class of 1955, as is Dick Emery. Reserve players on the squad include Jim Griffin, first base; Carl Pope, catcher; Pete Van Gytenheek, pitcher; John Brightman, catcher; and Frank Mountcastle, outfielder.

Kahny Hurls No-Hitter. An 8-0 victory over Applied Science on the wings of a no-hitter pitched by Harry Kahny kept the Sunbeams in the lead last week in the Eagles' Community Softball League. The feat, first of its kind this season, raised the victors' record to 4-0. Joe Toto paced Sunbeams with two of their nine hits.

Nassau Social Club remained in the runner-up spot with a 4-1 triumph over Artistic Clippers, Huck McCreedy winning his third of the season. Bill Murphy, Bucky Cupples and Jack Petrone each collected two hits for the Social Club while Doug Watson, the Clippers' pitcher, likewise hit safely twice.

Frazee's won its first game in five starts with a solid 15-hit barrage against the Jokers, pounding out an 18-8 triumph. The losers chipped in with a half dozen errors. RCA and the Eagles were rained out in the week's fourth game.

Behind the Sunbeams and Nassau Social Club in the standings come the Clippers at 3-2. The Eagles are 2-2; Jokers and Applied Science each 2-3; RCA is 1-3 and Frazee 1-4.

Games on Tuesday send the Clippers against the Jokers at Fitzpatrick Field; RCA against Applied Science at Marquand Park; Sunbeams against the Social Club at the RCA diamond; and the Eagles against Frazee's on Laughlin Field. Game time is 6:30, with the action beginning the second round of play this season.

Summer Baseball Set

The Princeton Athletic Club baseball team, member of the newly-formed Bi-County League, will open its 1955 schedule Friday at Blawenburg. The first game of the season on Brokaw Field is set for 6:15 Tuesday night, with Montgomery Township providing the opposition.

Neshanic will be here next Friday, June 17, with games set on a semi-weekly basis until the playoffs in August. Personnel for the P.A.C. nine is virtually the same as last year, when it compiled a 16-3 record in winning the title in a four-team league.

Chick Davis, who will again manage the team, will pitch against Montgomery Tuesday night. Pat Tidey, Hun School alumnus, will go against Neshanic.

PHS Takes Fifth State Title.

Paced by Carl Brown with two firsts and a second, Princeton High School's track team took its fifth straight State Group III Championship at the Rutgers University Stadium in New Brunswick Saturday, scoring 30 4/5 points to 19½ for runner-up Tenafly.

The team, which has not been defeated in 50 consecutive dual meets over a nine-year period, also received winning efforts from Win Niles Jr., the coach's son, in the pole vault, and Nick Kovalakides in the javelin. Niles finished in a three-way tie in this event, clearing the bar at 11'8".

Brown took both hurdles, setting a meet record with a 19.7 clocking in the 180-yard low hurdles to eclipse the old mark of 19.9 made last year. He also took a second in the high jump, which he had won the week offers a wide assortment of fabrics and wallpapers.

The Shop points out that a border print, like the serene rose-print chintz they have in lavender, green, blue, yellow or rose, can be used imaginatively in many ways to create interesting effects at a window. It can also be used where valences or dust-ruffles are needed, and with a harmonizing border wallpaper, its uses are almost endless.

If you would like to work out your own border print, the Shop has stencil patterns that can be applied to such fabrics as white taffeta, for example. There is a fleur de lis design, and one that looks like lace, and you may have them stencilled on in gold, silver, or any color you choose.

Ninety-year-old Chinese bowls are a new addition to the Shop's collection of accessories. Some are deep, others are almost as shallow as plates, one is lined with pale clear turquoise and shaped like a round-cornered pentagon. The designs are floral and quite simple.

A tall white lamp—not from China—has an intricate pierced design that looks almost Arabic . . . a pale lavendar vase some 18 inches high, has a single inverted tear drop for its only design. . . . a snack table manages to look unlike one, with its solid brass legs (folding) and its marbelized top.

Fauna. Feeling that we had let the study of zoology slip badly in recent months, we went to the Pet Shop on Henderson Avenue the other day for what turned out to be a refresher course in marine biology. (Before going in, we sneaked a look at that outdoor cage. The owls had flown the coop, but the beby alligator and the big turtle were still there. Didn't even recognize us.)

Our first encounter happened to be with a small hermit crab, one of a social little group that the Pet Shop has imported from the Virgin Islands. He peered out from his rented snail shell and waved his claws. The crabs are $1 each, and they live in a small cage with a bowl of water in the middle where they can take a dip from time to time.

Their diet consists of a fruit compote of bananas, apples, grapes and so on, and all you have to do is keep them warm. Mr. Arnott tells us that with their minute, razor-sharp claw ends, they can climb on anything—chairs, walls, probably your best furniture. Mr. Arnott lets them climb up his trouser leg, an experiment we did not try. Note to gourmets with a gleam in the eye: they are very small, hardly enough for a single hors d'oeuvre.

The half-beak is a new fish in the Pet Shop tank. Looks to us like a small anteater, with a curving snout. Comes from Borneo, Java and Sumatra where a favorite sport is pitting two half beaks against each other in wrestling matches. They were in between bouts when we saw them.

Turning to mammalia for a moment, the Pet Shop has some very rare albino hamsters that look, as you might guess, like big white mice. There are also panda hamsters, whose markings are different from the ordinary nursery-school variety. We learned, incidentally, that if you wish to change the customary nocturnal habits of the hamster, simply make a practice of feeding him in the daytime.

Dog owners contemplating a long automobile trip might consider the purchase of plastic paw protectors. These look exactly like those thin rubbers you buy for toddlers, only they are ankle-high, like a boot, and buckle around the ankle.

Put them on your dog so that his claws won't mar the finish and upholstery in your car. They are a becoming shade of light green, sized for dachshunds or boxers, $3.95 for four. Bottoms are treaded so the dog won't slip. Looks like a wonderful thing to chew and growl over; personally, we can hardly wait to see a dachshund wearing his set.

THE ONLY REASON that Town Topics has so many more classified ads than all other Princeton papers combined is because Town Topics gets so many more results.
